Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI)

Statements of Commitment to the Global Alliance Against Hunger and Poverty

General section

1. The Stockholm International Peace Research Institute [henceforth SIPRI] hereby voluntarily joins the Global Alliance Against Hunger and Poverty and states its dedication to pursue the Alliance's mission, objectives and principles, as expressed in the Global Alliance's Terms of Reference and Governance Framework, and to collaborate with other members to achieve lasting solutions to poverty and hunger worldwide, as expressed below.

   SIPRI and its Food Peace and Security Programme:

2. Recognizes that hunger and malnutrition are the perverse manifestations of persistent, structural poverty and inequality, and recognizes the need to end poverty and hunger in all their forms and dimensions and to fully and effectively implement the 2030 Agenda.

3. Acknowledges the alarming growth in the number of people facing food insecurity and poverty in recent years, noting that, despite all significant past and current efforts, the world is not on track to meet SDG 1 and 2 targets, inequality is also on the rise (SDG 10), and a significant increase in collective ambition, as well as improvement in collective alignment and coordination for the fight against hunger and poverty, is urgently needed.

4. To that effect, endorses the Global Alliance Against Hunger and Poverty and its mission to support and accelerate efforts to eradicate hunger and poverty (SDGs 1 and 2) while reducing inequalities (SDG 10), contributing to revitalize global partnerships for sustainable development (SDG 17) and to the achievement of other interlinked SDGs, and championing sustainable, inclusive and just transitions.

5. Notes that it is crucial for the world to unite behind large-scale, integrated approaches combining international, regional, national, and local levels, that recognize the interconnected nature of challenges and solutions to hunger and poverty and pair social protection with access to goods and services that can help the poor and vulnerable populations to overcome structural barriers and drive responsible investment in their productive capacity. These complementary services include but are not limited to interventions for poverty reduction, food security and nutrition, early childhood support, education and skills development, employment services, health and care services, as well as family farmers and smallholders' access to finance, extension services, research and/or agricultural inputs, in line with international commitments and obligations.

6. Particularly recognizes the high value and positive impact of quality implementation of national and local country-owned, inclusive policy instruments and programmes, focused on the poorest and most vulnerable, in the fields of poverty reduction, social protection, food security and nutrition, gender equality, decent work in the agri-food sector, skills development, family farming and smallholder agriculture, food systems transformation, health and care services and resilience building.

7. Also acknowledges the Global Alliance's reference basket of such policies as a collectively built, ongoing collection of examples with robust evidence to reduce hunger and poverty, and as a useful basis to guide joint action and increase alignment of the international community at country level. This acknowledgement is applicable to the policy basket approach as a general guide to action and does not imply endorsement of any specific policy instrument or programme contained in the basket.

8. Therefore, by joining the Global Alliance Against Hunger and Poverty, commits to do its best efforts, in its own field of action, and according to its own mandate, capacities, priorities, preferences, procedures, and legal arrangements and framework, to support the implementation of policy instruments and programmes at country level as appropriate, including by the promotion of shared learning and the mobilization of resources, public and private, at scale.

In particular:

Knowledge support commitments

SIPRI and its Food, Peace and Security Programme:

Commits to make its best efforts to co-create and provide technical assistance, capacity building and strengthening, training and/or knowledge-sharing on voluntary and mutually agreed terms in response to requests by Global Alliance member countries that choose to implement policy instruments and programmes in the Alliance's policy basket that are compatible with its areas of expertise.

Commits to make its best efforts to improve the alignment of its actions, including through the Global Alliance's coordination mechanisms, leveraging, and partnering with other actors to better support large scale, country-owned implementation of policies and programmes in the reference basket by Global Alliance member countries, aiming at enhancing country-level outcomes.

Commits to collaborate with other Alliance members to develop innovative solutions and share good practices in learning and knowledge exchange and dissemination on voluntary and mutually agreed terms, data collection and analysis, including by leveraging existing local, national, and international knowledge networks, coalitions, communities and other fora related to aspects relevant to the fight against hunger and poverty.

Informs its capacity and readiness to support Alliance member governments in implementing, improving or scaling-up the following policy instrument types, referenced in the Global Alliance's basket of policy instruments:

-From conflict-sensitive to peace-positive conditional cash transfers (CCT)
-From conflict-sensitive to peace-positive emergency cash transfers in fragile and humanitarian contexts
-From conflict-sensitive to peace-positive emergency food transfer/supply, including humanitarian
-From conflict-sensitive to peace-positive environmentally conditioned cash transfers (ECCT)
-Peace-positive school meal programmes
-Peace-positive support for livelihood diversification, particularly for rural populations
-From conflict-sensitive to peace-positive unconditional cash transfers
-Integrated programmes (climate, food and peace)
-Climate and shock resilience, including programmes related to anticipatory, adaptive and shock-responsive social protection
-Conflict-sensitive economic inclusion programmes
-Conflict-sensitive gender equality and empowerment programmes

Informs and commits to implementing the following actions, programmes, and other activities in support of the Global Alliance's objectives:

-conduct applied research on the conflict-sensitive design and implementation of any of the policy instruments mentioned above in fragile and conflict-affected settings. SIPRI's research deliverables can be published or unpublished (internal advisory or communication) reports and documents of different types and lengths depending on the audience and objectives pursued. In addition to bespoke studies and documents, SIPRI also offers embedded research components to accompany the implementation of a selected project.

-identify and measure peace-positive outcomes of any of the policy instruments mentioned above in fragile and conflict-affected settings;

-provide advice on peace-positive design and implementation of any of the policy instruments mentioned above in fragile and conflict-affected settings;

-monitor and evaluate conflict-sensitive and peace-positive programming to reduce hunger, enhance food security and diversify livelihoods and to strengthen the evidence-base on how to do so successfully;

-convene dialogues or seminars with key stakeholders on any of the policy instruments mentioned above for effective knowledge exchange or consensus building;

-disseminate findings from the potential research listed above through publications, videos, conferences, and policy dialogues. SIPRI produces, for example, short documentaries or spotlight interviews to enhance dissemination and support communication strategies.

-partner with other members of the Global Alliance Against Hunger and Poverty to undertake research and advisory assignments related to conflict-sensitive food security programming. SIPRI's partnerships can consist of a bespoke combination of research, knowledge sharing and dissemination activities. People in conflict-affected countries are three times more likely to be undernourished than those living in countries without conflict. SIPRI's Food, Peace and Security Programs offers partners from the Global Alliance against Hunger and Poverty special expertise on policies to enhance food security in conflict contexts.

General acknowledgments

Recognizes the possibility to, including through the mechanisms available to Global Alliance members, coordinate, partner with and/or seek support from the Global Alliance's other members, within their respective capacities, availability, and fields of activity, to carry out the present commitments with greater effectiveness.

While recognizing that the above commitments are voluntary and non-legally binding, being subject to and carried out under its own capacities, regulations, priorities, and modalities, as well as to the availability of appropriate resourcing, strives to seriously consider, as appropriate, and according to its own legal frameworks and governance process, to review its procedures and priorities as found necessary to better deliver on the present commitments, enhance synergies and joint efforts with other entities and initiatives, and improve outcomes on the collective fight against hunger and poverty.